	AFRO AMERICAN LITERATURE	5	0	0	4	Theory

Introduction

This course will examine the significance of a specifically African American literary tradition in shaping both the identities and the histories of the myriad people of African descent in the United States. We will begin by positioning African American literature within an American literary history. Specifically, we will be considering the ways in which the models of storytelling that shape African American narratives. We will closely consider verbal and literary modes, including: African retentions, oral traditions, signifying, folklore, and music, have created a unique African American literary voice, and have affected both African Americans' understandings of themselves, as well as the ways in which they have historically been understood in the American popular imagination. In an effort to critically map the genealogies of this tradition we will be interrogating not only the historical and political contexts of the works, but also the ways in which issues of gender, sexuality, and class specifically inform the works.

Course Focuses on: Skill Development

Course Outcome

CO1:	To develop an understanding of an African American literary tradition as a syncretic ally shaped artistic form.
CO2:	To begin to understand the critical uses of the narrative forms of oral traditions, signifying, folklore, and music in making African American literature a unique literary model
CO3:	To understand the theoretical concepts of race, racism and racialization as they inform the creation of an ethnic literature.
CO4:	To examine the critical connections between historical eras and events and the formation of narrative.
CO5:	To begin to understand the unique aspects of African American literary theory.

Introduction
This course is an introduction to speech communication which emphasizes the practical skill of public speaking, including techniques to lessen speaker anxiety, and the use of visual aids to enhance speaker presentations. Civility and ethical speech-making are the foundations of this course. Its goal is to prepare students for success in typical public speaking situations and to provide them with the basic principles of organization and research needed for effective speeches.
Course Focuses on: Entrepreneur
Course Outcome
	CO1:	Students will become aware of the importance of communication in personal and professional environments
	CO2:	Students Shall gain experience in interpersonal, group, and public communication.
	CO3:	Students will develop strategies for overcoming speech anxiety.
	CO4:	Students will practice delivery of professional and personal speeches using visual aids where appropriate to enhance presentation.
	CO5:	To Evolve a reliable model for preparing and delivering effective presentations.
Unit I					[12Periods]
Introductory Speech: This is a speech of Self-Introduction based on a national newspaper or magazine article (such as The New York Times, Washington Post, Time, and Newsweek).
Unit II					[12Periods]
Informative Speech: The purpose of this extemporaneous speech is to inform the audience about some person, object, process, concept or event. A full-sentence outline and bibliography are required. The use of an audience analysis survey and visual aid is optional, but recommended, except for PowerPoint.
Unit III					[12Periods]
Persuasive Speech: This extemporaneous speech assignment is to persuade the audience for or against a question of policy. In addition to a full-sentence outline, audience analysis and bibliography, the use of a visual aid is highly recommended. Note: PowerPoint is mandatory for either the persuasive or final speech.

Unit IV	[12Periods]
Special Occasion Speech: A speech designed to fulfill the objectives of a designated special occasion. Speakers may choose from the following options: (1) an “after-dinner” speech, using an imaginary professional career as the basis for the speech; (2) a commemorative speech honoring a famous historical person or event; or (3) a “grand narrative” speech – using a narrative to tell a family story that has been passed down to you which contains a particular moral or cultural insight.
Unit V	[12Periods]
Final Speech: The student may choose either a speech to inform or to persuade. An outline (speaker’s choice), audience analysis, bibliography and visual aid are required. Note: PowerPoint is mandatory for at least one speech - either the persuasive or final speech.
